

Recruit Partners

Erickson Coaching International | London | Milan | Vancouver | Toronto | San Francisco | New York City | Ottawa | Calgary | Tokyo | Seoul

Who we are

Erickson Coaching was established in 1980 with the goal of providing training to support global human development. Since its inception, Erickson has pioneered transformational change in individuals and organizations using a methodology of coaching techniques that are action-based and future focused. Above all, Erickson is committed to empowering people by placing strong emphasis on solutions rather than problems.

Founder and President of Erickson Coaching International, Marilyn Atkinson has been at the forefront of human-centric training for over 40 years. Trained as a clinical psychologist, Marilyn modeled Erickson's techniques and neuroscientific principles around Milton Erickson's solution-focused teachings. Her programs are world renowned and are taught across 5 continents. She continues to train and create programs that have a profound impact across the globe.

What you are expected to do

Lead the market development of your region to educate and inspire customers on continuous life-long development through a variety of Erickson's offerings

Recruit new Erickson customers and organize onsite and online courses in collaboration with Erickson Global Headquarters

Attract Erickson graduates, coaches, and facilitators to form a local community and engage with continuous learning

Offer Erickson Online training courses to individual customers in your city of operation

Offer corporate customers in your city of operation Erickson Online training courses, coaching placement services and development of corporate internal coaches

Hold an independent P&L and be accountable for the business impacts

Contact us if you

Demonstrate a strong passion for developing and enlightening people, facilitating group learning and coaching

Genuinely care for people and enjoy connecting and building relationships Thoughtful, tactful and a great communicator

Are an experienced business leader:

10+ years of corporate experience in marketing and sales preferably in learning and development, OR 10+ years of experience in Human Resources

Hold a strong local customer network and are seeking offerings to help customers develop and grow

Experienced in organizing onsite and online events, training, and workshops

OR You are an experienced coach or facilitator

10+ years of experience in executive coaching or life coaching and have an existing and growing local customer base

You are able to facilitate and deliver Erickson courses

You have a strong desire to lead a business and manage end-to-end operations

Bonus points if you are an Erickson Alumni!

Please submit your CV to hr@erickson.edu with the subject line Partner Application